

Decoding Motorola Serial Numbers

Unless a proof-of-purchase document is provided, warranty is based on radio serial numbers. Each radio is assigned a unique serial number with the second and third alpha characters indicating date of manufacture. Serial numbers can be found under the battery and also on the product packaging. If attaching identifying stickers to radios, please do not obscure the serial numbers. Radios with illegible serial numbers will be considered out-of-warranty regardless of when they were purchased.
